Air Fares May Rise Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) - The commercial flying fare may be going up soon-the takeoff could be as early as Sept. 15 or as late as Oct. 1-with any exact rate rises to be determined after arguments before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB has indicated to the carriers they may be allowed to increase fares to help counter rising costs and dipping returns.

Oral arguments on proposals from five companies-American, Continental, Eastern, Northwest and United-will be held Sept. 4. Although Braniff and Trans World Airlines have not filed proposals of their own, Eastern says they back its approach.

Suggested increases range from American's 4.4 per cent to Eastern's 8 per cent. United wants its increase effective Sept. 14 while Eastern and Continental want their new rates to go into effect Oct. 1.

Shootout Victims Identified

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Two men shot to death Wednesday in a gun battle with Franklin County authorities following a bank holdup in Berger, Mo., have been identified from photographs as suspects in two St. Louis housing project holdups, police said.

Lindsey Butler Jr., 22, a former convict, and Rafael Wells Christian, 25, both of St. Louis, were killed in a shootout about nine miles south of Union, Mo. A third man was captured unharmed and two bags containing about $10,000 recovered.

St. Louis auhorities said Butler and Christian were identified from photographs taken during a $2,197 holdup at the Vaughn Housing Project on July 31. Christian was also identified as one of the two men who robbed the Pruitt-Igoe Housing Project of $4,000 on Aug. 12.

DePugh Arraignment Set

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) - Robert Bolivar DePugh, leader of the ultra-ring Minuteman organization, will be arraigned in federal court here Sept. 8, Dean Smith, U.S. attorney for Eastern Washington, said Thursday.

DePugh is now in the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary. He is serving a term in connection with a charge of interstate transportation of a firearm.

DePugh and his top aide, Walter Patrick Payson, are charged with conspiracy to rob three Redmond. Wash., banks, and another in Des Moines, Wash., in January of 1968. Smith said Peyson would be arraigned at the same time.

The trials of seven Seattle area men charged in the same plot were held in Spokane last summer after a federal judge in Seattle ruled pretrial publicity might prejudice their case in King County.

ON LEGISLATIVE SALARIES

U. S. Senator John Williams of Delaware attempted to amend the legislation increasing the salaries of the Vice with a narrow 50-47 defeat. The Senator's amendment would have eliminated the presidential committee on legislative salaries and returned the chore of congressional pay increases to the Congress which had been doing it for rushing in to spend their lives collecting data." the first 175 years of our history.

Presidents, the power to fix salaries of members of treatment of the disease through scientific research. Congress. Certainly we want to keep the three branches of the Government entirely separate, and we should not salaries. If not, I will recommend that they be lowered." probable earnings from playing the horses.

Under the present commission on legislative salaries, the presidential commission merely declares that there APLAY should be a salary increase for the Congress and the deed is done. Opponents of the Williams amendment would say that the Congress could veto the pay raises. This is true, but the public doesn't seem to realize that this would happen only if the fight is brought to the floor of Congress through a congressional committee.

Earlier this year, the Congressmen received a pay hike from $30,000 per year to $42,500. The bill for the 435 congressmen and the hundred senators will amount to $6,687,500 per year and the total effect on the economy is difficult to measure if one considers the encouragement it gives to the nation's workers to demand salary increases in proportion to those of elected officials.

At the time of the last salary, boost, many congressmen and senators protested that the raises should not be allowed. One congressman, Representative Gene Snyder of Kentucky, called their bluffs. He introduced a discharge petition that, if signed by a majority of the members of the House, would have forced a floor vote on up and down on the Beautyrest and the house will stop Purpose: "To give away all the A car dealer in Seattle the pay raises. UPDATING THE CPI

The consumer price index (CPI) is sophisticated enough to keep track of price changes affecting frozen broccoli in Anchorage, used cars in Los Angeles and women's girdles in Honolulu. But does it tell the whole story of price performance in our currently overheated economy?

While the CPI is generally conceded to be the best economic indicator of its kind in the world, the Labor Department cautiously describes it as "believed to be sufficiently accurate for most of the practical uses made of it." Economist Thomas Juster of the National Bureau of Economic Research rates it somewhat lower, from "moderately inadequate" down to "grossly inadequate."

Clearly, the best is not good enough. But on the basis of the June index -- up to 127.6 (1858 - 59 = 100)-Labor reported that consumer prices had risen 0.6 per cent in one month and were rising at a yearly rate of 6 per cent. ride. There was enough faith in the index to pinpoint meat as a dominant factor in the overall substantial increase and to tell consumers what they already knew: prices were rising even if the rest of the economy was beginning to slow

Government economists began collecting data and calculating a crude form of the CPI in 1917 for use in wartime wage negotiations. Top to bottom revisions were made in 1940, 1953 and 1964. Additional adjustments, to reflect rationing, were made during World War II and again in 1950 to account for the 1947-49 postwar

Computers calculate the index from the prices American wage earners and clerical workers pay for nearly 400 separate goods and services, from cribs to funerals, in 56 cities and areas ranging from Devils Lake. N. D. to New York City. The quotations come in from voluntary reporters, experts in the field, through mailed questionnaires and from other government agencies. The item prices are weighted twice, according to their relative importance in the market basket and according to population. As a further refinement, begun in 1966, some items, like fresh produce, are "seasonally adjusted."

The data are punched through computers and come out as a single figure which represents current prices as a percentage of the base period. The June index of 127.6, for instance, meant it cost $127.60 to buy the same market basket of goods and services that cost $100 ten

Criticism can be directed at all facets of the BLS operation. The list covers too narrow a range of items. Professional, managerial and farm groups are not represented in the figures. The calculations do not take account of quality changes that increase durability. Tax increases like the 10 per cent surcharge are not included.

While the CPI appears to be improving all the time, Labor Department officials are the first to admit the indicator's limitations. Currently, they are conducting a two-year, $600,000 revision.

A more intractable problem lies in finding the economists necessary to make the CPI the precise gauge President and certain officers of the Congress and met of price performance it should be. "I don't know what's going to happen 10 years from now," comments Arthur Okun, a former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, "but I don't see a great many PhDs

Continuing with our theme: "Dealing with the lost." Today, we will deal with the indifferent. Indifference is, "Lack of feeling indifference "is like the guy who sees a black speck in his pudding and doesn't care whether it is a fly or a raisin." These are unconcerned, and thus, see no immediate need to become alarmed. And so, it is a very difficult task to shake people from their well worn complacency, but try we must.

The indifferent judge right and wrong by their own feelings.

And therefore, excuse sin, because, they don't feel they have done wrong. But do we need to be reminded that lack of feeling is one of the major warning signals of indifference. All need a Savior, because, all have sinned. (Rom. 3:24) And Christ said, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." (Jno. 8:34) The indifferent are no exception to this even though they may feel they are all right, and are satisfied with themselves. Since they are included in sin, we need to create fear of sin and the judgment. "The wages of sin is death," "the wrath of God abideth on him," "God will take vengeance on and will punish with everlasting destruction." (Rom. 6:23; Jno. 3:36; Rom. 2:5; 2 Thess. 1:7-9)

How often have you witnessed one with the shrug of the shoulders say, who cares? This is the indifferent speaking, since they don't care they have the tendency to believe no one else does, including God. These could acknowledge the possibility of many caring, and would help, if given the chance. And if we can't believe that man cares, surely we can believe that God does after all He has done. He cares about my well being even if I don't. He is not willing that any perish. (2 Pet. 3:9) He so loved the world, (including me) that He gave His Son. (Jno. 3:16) He can be touched by the feelings of my infirmities. (Heb. 4:15) God is never indifferent!! He cares.

Knowing the care that God has shown, and the privileges He has provided through Christ, know also the sin and tragedy of refusing this care by rejecting Christ. "He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two are three witnesses: Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the convenant, wherewith he was sanctified, and unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?" HAYTI - The Executive Vice President of Missourians for Right to Work Gene Mittelberg told the Hayti Rotary Club that union officials are spending uncountable millions of union money to elect political candidates of their own choosing. Much of this money is collected in the form of compulsory membership fees and dues. Rank and file members are frequently subjected to threats intimidation and severe harassment even to the point of job loss if they politically disagree with their union leaders.

"How can our public officials accept the blanket statement that union officers speak for the working people in Missouri" Mittelberg asked "when out of over 1,640,000 people in our non- agricultural work force union membership in out state stands at less than 600,000? Furthermore we are concerned because a large percentage of union members are members by force and not by free choice."

(3) White collar technical workers such as surveyors, draftsmen, junior engineers and salesmen.

Legislation to protect the rights of federal employees to join or refrain from joining employee organizaton is now pending in Congress. Several bilis have also been introduced for the purpose of recognizing collective bargaining for agricultural workers. These farm worker bills do not protect the worker against a "closed shop" agreement which would force him to join and pay to the Mittelberg said "Missourians for Right to Work is a single purpose citizens organization dedicated to the principle of eliminating compulsory unionism in Missouri. Some employees are helped. Others are hurt by union representation. Only the employee ... the person who pays the dues ... is qualified to decide whether a union is worthy of his support.

Air Fares May Rise Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) - The commercial flying fare may be going up soon-the takeoff could be as early as Sept. 15 or as late as Oct. 1-with any exact rate rises to be determined after arguments before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB has indicated to the carriers they may be allowed to increase fares to help counter rising costs and dipping returns.

Oral arguments on proposals from five companies-American, Continental, Eastern, Northwest and United-will be held Sept. 4. Although Braniff and Trans World Airlines have not filed proposals of their own, Eastern says they back its approach.

Suggested increases range from American's 4.4 per cent to Eastern's 8 per cent. United wants its increase effective Sept. 14 while Eastern and Continental want their new rates to go into effect Oct. 1.

Shootout Victims Identified

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Two men shot to death Wednesday in a gun battle with Franklin County authorities following a bank holdup in Berger, Mo., have been identified from photographs as suspects in two St. Louis housing project holdups, police said.

Lindsey Butler Jr., 22, a former convict, and Rafael Wells Christian, 25, both of St. Louis, were killed in a shootout about nine miles south of Union, Mo. A third man was captured unharmed and two bags containing about $10,000 recovered.

St. Louis auhorities said Butler and Christian were identified from photographs taken during a $2,197 holdup at the Vaughn Housing Project on July 31. Christian was also identified as one of the two men who robbed the Pruitt-Igoe Housing Project of $4,000 on Aug. 12.

ON LEGISLATIVE SALARIES

U. S. Senator John Williams of Delaware attempted to amend the legislation increasing the salaries of the Vice economists necessary to make the CPI the precise gauge President and certain officers of the Congress and met of price performance it should be. "I don't know what's with a narrow 50-47 defeat. The Senator's amendment going to happen 10 years from now," comments Arthur would have eliminated the presidential committee on legislative salaries and returned the chore of congressional Economic Advisers, "but I don't see a great many PhDs pay increases to the Congress which had been doing it for rushing in to spend their lives collecting data." the first 175 years of our history.

Certainly we want to keep the three branches of the Government entirely separate, and we should not give to the President the right to say at any time, 'If you Mason sued the driver who injured him in a collision for are good boys and approve my programs I will raise your $33,860 damages, including $30,450 to cover his salaries. If not, I will recommend that they be lowered." probable earnings from playing the horses.

Under the present commission on legislative salaries, the presidential commission merely declares that there APLAY should be a salary increase for the Congress and the deed is done. Opponents of the Williams amendment would say that the Congress could veto the pay raises. This is true, but the public doesn't seem to realize that this would happen only if the fight is brought to the floor of Congress through a congressional committee.

Earlier this year, the Congressmen received a pay hike from $30,000 per year to $42,500. The bill for the 435 congressmen and the hundred senators will amount to $6,687,500 per year and the total effect on the economy is difficult to measure if one considers the encouragement it gives to the nation's workers to demand salary increases in proportion to those of elected officials.

At the time of the last salary, boost, many congressmen and senators protested that the raises should not be allowed. One congressman, Representative Gene Snyder of Kentucky, called their bluffs. He introduced a discharge petition that, if signed by a majority of the members of the House, would have forced a floor vote on up and down on the Beautyrest and the house will stop Purpose: "To give away all the the pay raises. The last count showed that about 40 to shaking. 435 congressmen had signed the petition to bring the matter before the body for an open tally. UPDATING THE CPI

The consumer price index (CPI) is sophisticated enough to keep track of price changes affecting frozen broccoli in Anchorage, used cars in Los Angeles and women's girdles in Honolulu. But does it tell the whole story of price performance in our currently overheated economy?

While the CPI is generally conceded to be the best economic indicator of its kind in the world, the Labor Department cautiously describes it as "believed to be sufficiently accurate for most of the practical uses made of it." Economist Thomas Juster of the National Bureau of Economic Research rates it somewhat lower, from "moderately inadequate" down to "grossly inadequate."

Clearly, the best is not good enough. But on the basis of the June index -- up to 127.6 (1858 - 59 = 100)-Labor reported that consumer prices had risen 0.6 per cent in one month and were rising at a yearly rate of 6 per cent. There was enough faith in the index to pinpoint meat as a dominant factor in the overall substantial increase and to tell consumers what they already knew: prices were rising even if the rest of the economy was beginning to slow

Government economists began collecting data and calculating a crude form of the CPI in 1917 for use in wartime wage negotiations. Top to bottom revisions were made in 1940, 1953 and 1964. Additional adjustments, to reflect rationing, were made during World War II and again in 1950 to account for the 1947-49 postwar changes.

Computers calculate the index from the prices American wage earners and clerical workers pay for nearly 400 separate goods and services, from cribs to funerals, in 56 cities and areas ranging from Devils Lake, N. D. to New York City. The quotations come in from voluntary reporters, experts in the field, through mailed questionnaires and from other government agencies. The rains. People expect you to take diminishing, calm weather lies item prices are weighted twice, according to their relative importance in the market basket and according to population. As a further refinement, begun in 1966, some items, like fresh produce, are "seasonally adjusted."

The data are punched through computers and come out as a single figure which represents current prices as a percentage of the base period. The June index of 127.6, for instance, meant it cost $127.60 to buy the same market basket of goods and services that cost $100 ten years ago.

Criticism can be directed at all facets of the BLS operation. The list covers too narrow a range of items. Professional, managerial and farm groups are not represented in the figures. The calculations do not take account of quality changes that increase durability. Tax increases like the 10 per cent surcharge are not included.

While the CPI appears to be improving all the time, Labor Department officials are the first to admit the indicator's limitations. Currently, they are conducting a two-year, $600,000 revision.

Continuing with our theme: "Dealing with the lost." Today, we will deal with the indifferent. Indifference is, "Lack of feeling indifference "is like the guy who sees a black speck in his pudding and doesn't care whether it is a fly or a raisin." These are unconcerned, and thus, see no immediate need to become alarmed. And so, it is a very difficult task to shake people from their well worn complacency, but try we must.

The indifferent judge right and wrong by their own feelings. And therefore, excuse sin, because, they don't feel they have done wrong. But do we need to be reminded that lack of feeling is one of the major warning signals of indifference. All need a Savior, because, all have sinned. (Rom. 3:24) And Christ said, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." (Jno. 8:34) The indifferent are no exception to this even though they may feel they are all right, and are satisfied with themselves. Since they are included in sin, we need to create fear of sin and the judgment. "The wages of sin is death," "the wrath of God abideth on him," "God will take vengeance on and will punish with everlasting destruction." (Rom. 6:23; Jno. 3:36; Rom. 2:5; 2 Thess. 1:7-9)

How often have you witnessed one with the shrug of the shoulders say, who cares? This is the indifferent speaking, since they don't care they have the tendency to believe no one else does, including God. These could acknowledge the possibility of many caring, and would help, if given the chance. And if we can't believe that man cares, surely we can believe that God does after all He has done. He cares about my well being even if I don't. He is not willing that any perish. (2 Pet. 3:9) He so loved the world, (including me) that He gave His Son. (Jno. 3:16) He can be touched by the feelings of my infirmities. (Heb. 4:15) God is never indifferent!! He cares.

Knowing the care that God has shown, and the privileges He has provided through Christ, know also the sin and tragedy of refusing this care by rejecting Christ. "He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two are three witnesses: Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the convenant, wherewith he was sanctified, and unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?" The fire burned for three hours and when it was over, so was the short-lived age of zeppelins.

Although Days Are Numbered, Ferries Chug On

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 16. — Many children think a ferry is someone who leaves money under their pillow for lost teeth.

Those who have crossed the Mississippi River from Tennessee into southern Missouri know better.

"We get people on long trips going out of their way to get a ferry ride across the river. says Eric Taylor, owner of the Taylor ferries which offer 24hour service across the Mississippi from Caruthersville, Mo. to Ridgely, Tenn. and from Cottonwood Point to Tenn.

When the four-lane bridge now under construction on Highway 155, a spur of Inter-state 55 in Missouri, is completed Mr. Taylor will look for another use for his ferries.

"But they say the bridge won't be finished for another three years, and until then we'll keep shuttling cars across." he said.
